DESCRIPTION

Tips & Guidelines for Living in an Online Society

The Internet, mobile devices, computers, and social networks: they have become a part of our culture and have formed an inescapably new way of life. To know how to live in this world of technology is essential. To educate our families about the benefits and risks is paramount.

This book is a positive guide through new technologies for newbies and seasoned technological veterans alike. It is a great educational support for those with many questions and hesitations about our connected world, and for those with children or students.

Alfred Domingo is a physicist, consultant, author, and Professor of Security and Computer Networks in Spain. He has managed the implementation of technology in schools and the corporate sector, and has taught on the subject of educational technology in various institutions. He resides in Madrid.
